

Public Lecture

Language Learning Materials Development: Getting to the heart of language pedagogy

by

Freda Mishan

University of Limerick

The field of language learning materials development is in many ways the 'Cinderella' of applied linguistics, emerging as a field in its own right around the mid-1990s. This talk will start from the premise that materials development is at the very centre of language teaching and needs to be reclaimed as such. Illustrated throughout with original samples of classroom materials, this talk offers an interactive introduction to the principles and practices associated with language learning materials development and should be of interest to teachers of EAL, ESL and modern foreign languages alike.

Date: 16th MAY 2012

Time: 7.30pm

Location: ROOM C165 , First Floor Henry Grattan Building
Dublin City University

School of Applied Language and Intercultural
Studies (SALIS)